Mission: "Motherbase 2000"

The Hive Confederation was once a peaceful, thriving planetary system comprised of intelligent insectoid races. After fifty years of harmony, the Ginglii, one of the most powerful Hive clans, have separated from the Hive and have assembled a central computer capable of massive destruction. Using the computer to coordinate weapons production, the Ginglii have overtaken several of the planets and have enslaved many of the Hive insectoid races. The Confederation is facing total extinction.

To combat the Ginglii invasion, a small rebel force has embarked on one last mission to free the Ginglii slave colonies and to destroy the Ginglii homeworld central computer. This mission, code-named "Motherbase 2000," must succeed or the Ginglii will gain total control of the Hive. The Stinger is the only ship that can penetrate the defense forces of the Ginglii central computer. Your piloting expertise and ability to learn Ginglii weaponry will determine the fate of the Hive.

Destroy the Enemy Computer!

Your mission starts on an attacked Hive starship located near Ginglii space. You start out in a Pincer courier, and you can change to the Beetle courier or fight with just the standard Stinger fighter if desired (see the next page for an explanation of ship types).

If the ship you are using takes too much damage, it explodes and you lose it. You might be able to save the Stinger by jumping out of a courier before the courier explodes (see page 10).

When you lose all of your ships, the game ends (see page 13).

After you lose a ship, you start with the next one on the same level in a Stinger fighter. The Hive will try to send you couriers (special ships which the Stinger can dock in).

Ship Types

Model Type: 924 Stinger
Move Speed: Average
Armor: Light
Main Shot: Light Cannon
Sub-shot: None

Your fighter can dock in any of the couriers. The Stinger can be an effective weapon by itself; however, docking in other ships and using them increases your chances of completing the mission.

Model Type: Pincer 24-H
Move Speed: Slow
Armor: Heavy
Main Shot: Heavy Cannon
Sub-shot: Heat-seeking Ripper Missiles

The Pincer is the largest of the Hive ships. It's heavy cannon is capable of destroying most enemies with just a few shots. Rely on the missiles to attack enemies to the sides. The Pincer is slow, but its armor can withstand several hits.

Model Type: Beetle 16-B
Move Speed: Slow
Armor: Heavy
Main Shot: Type 12 Cannon
Sub-shot: Plasma Mines

This is another courier that, like the Pincer, can take several hits before exploding. The Beetle's Sub-shot is used for attacking enemies to the front port and front starboard.

Model Type: R95 Mantis
Move Speed: Average
Armor: Average
Main Shot: Twin Heavy Lasers
Sub-shot: Air-to-air Spitter Missiles

The strength and quick firing rate of the lasers and missiles of this ship make it useful for attacking larger targets. The Mantis fights best at a distance from enemy targets.

Model Type: T159 Wasp
Move Speed: Fast
Armor: Light
Main Shot: Medium Laser
Sub-shot: Heat-seeking Needle Missiles

Speed is the main asset of this fighter. It can move faster than any of the other Hive ships. The laser is similar to the Mantis' laser, but isn't as powerful.

Powering Up Couriers

When a courier is sent to you from the Hive, all you need to do is move your Stinger near the courier, press the Jump Button, and direct your Stinger with the D-Pad to land directly on top of the courier.

If the courier takes damage, and appears ready to explode (indicated by the flashing red status bar at the top of the screen) you can still get the Stinger safely off the courier before it explodes by pressing the Jump Button.

If the Hive sends you a courier while you are using another one, you can change couriers as described on the previous page. But a new courier is not necessarily a better one. You need to decide which one you think is better for the situation.

Hacking and Learning

The Ginglii do not realize that Hive Intelligence has uncovered some very useful information about the Ginglii defense—your Stinger can dock in some of the Ginglii ships just like your own couriers! Turn the Ginglii's very own weapons against them! Experiment to find out which ships your Stinger can dock in.

Attempt to dock in a Ginglii vessel as you would a courier. Each time you do this successfully, you are awarded Hacking bonus points.

In addition, you are awarded Learning bonus points if you can pilot the ship at least until the second electric current appears between your docked Stinger and a Ginglii craft. Your on-board computer chimes "Ready!" when the electric current appears.

Note: Points are awarded for each vessel you enter and pilot, not for each ship type. Bonus points are given to you when you complete a stage (see Clearing a Stage, next page).

To Be Continued...

After you lose your last ship and have Continues remaining, the Continue screen appears.

Press the D-Button LEFT or RIGHT to highlight YES or NO. Press Button A, B or C or Start to select.

If you don't have any Continues remaining, the game is over and the Sega logo appears.

2P VS. Mode

Show your friend who's the best Stinger pilot in this 2-player shootout.

The goal of the game is simple: shoot your opponent's Stinger first before he or she shoots you. Each player has five ships. The player who destroys the opponent's ship five times wins. Yet doing this might not be so easy.

Choose the location where you will fight. Press the D-Button LEFT or RIGHT, and press Button A, B or C or Start to select one of the four different maps.
