Story

The desert planet Rosa lies at the far edge of the galaxy. Jaster, a young man on Rosa dreams of journeying through space.

A huge beast appears in a plaza and begins attacking the town one day. Jaster rushes toward the plaza to protect the citizens of the town, but more beasts get in his way. As he fights the beasts, a mysterious man named "Desert Claw" arrives and aids him in the battle.

Unbeknownst to Jaster, two people are watching his actions. They are Simon and Steve, the subordinates of the Space Pirate Dorgengoa. Simon and Steve are so impressed with Jaster's fighting skills that they offer him the chance to join Dorgengoa's band. Jaster accepts their offer, leaves his home, and heads for the pirate ship Dorgenark. Jaster and his fellow Space Pirates head out to the wide universe where countless adventures await them...

Main Characters

Jaster Rogue

Jaster is our hero. He is a 17-year-old boy who was raised on the desert planet Rosa. He longs to leave his humdrum life behind and explore the universe. Jaster is optimistic and energetic, and always keeps one eye on the future. Jaster gets his wish when the most famous Space Pirate in the galaxy, Dorgengoa, recruits him for his crew.

Kisala

She is the 17-year-old daughter of the Space Pirate Dorgengoa. She has a very cute and girlish appearance, but is curiously open and tomboyish. She does not fear the ruffian Space Pirates that surround her.

Zegram Ghart

This one-eyed hunter is Dorgengoa's friend and known as the "Black Wolf". He has a calm manner of speech that runs contrary to his fiery demeanor.

Simon

Hailing from Zerard, Simon is a mysterious little man who never shows his face. How he came to join the Dorgengoa Pirates is unknown, but he's one of the first to mistake Jaster for Desert Claw.

Lilika

From the backwater planet Juraika, Lilika comes to the Dorgengoa Pirates from the Burkaqua Tribe. Her commanding presence and native combat skills are more than elite enough to make her anyone's equal in the wider galaxy.

Steve

Constructed in the Daytron factories on Zerard and designed by the genius inventor Dr. Poccachio, Steve is a mild-mannered robot who serves as the Dorgenark's navigator.

Jupis

Jupis is at best eccentric and possibly insane. How exactly he managed to turn himself into one of the galaxy's finest hackers, inventors, and engineers is anybody's guess, but it probably involved drinking a lot of coffee.

Deego

An ex-military man, Deego turns up drinking his life away in Angela's Bar on the mining planet Vedan. He's a highly skilled combatant and a conscientious, friendly dog-man when he's sober.

1. Obtain Blueprints

You can acquire Blueprints from people who hang out near shops. Blueprints list ingredients and manufacturing arrangements necessary to make new items, as well as the shop that the item will be sold in. In instances where a single Blueprint doesn't have all the necessary information, you may have to acquire information from multiple people to gain all the information necessary to create the new item.

2. Go to Factory Menu

3. Place your Manufacturing Parts

Select PLACE, and arrange the manufacturing parts to meet the manufacturing arrangements listed in the development plan. Use MOVE and REMOVE to move and remove parts you've placed.

4. Set Material

5. Run Factory

Select RUN and the Factory will start to work. If you've arranged the necessary manufacturing parts and set the ingredients according to the development plan, a new item will be developed. If you don't have the development plans for an item, even if you set the machinery and ingredients right, the item will not be developed.

6. Acquire Item

If the development is a success, you will receive one sample item. Depending on the item, the shops may also begin selling it. Shops that will sell the item will be listed on the development plan after development is completed.

When the gauge runs out, you cannot attack with your secondary weapons until the weapon reloads. After you have reloaded three times, you will not be able to use that secondary weapon anymore during that battle.

After the gauge is completely emptied, it will gradually begin to restore itself. If anything remains in the gauge, it will not restore itself. When the gauge is completely refilled, you will be able to attack again. The Secondary Weapon gauge does not restore itself after battle. Note: Lillika's primary weapon also uses the secondary weapon gauge.

TEAM COMMANDS

ENEMY HP

ACTION GAUGE

The Action Gauge displays the energy you have stored for attacks. When you attack an enemy, the gauge decreases whether you hit or miss. When the Action Gauge is empty, an "!" mark appears over the character icon on the H.U.D., and he will be unable to attack.

When the gauge runs out, it will gradually begin to restore itself. If you manage to successfully guard, the gauge will restore itself completely (see page 29). In either case, if there is anything left in the gauge, it will not restore itself. When the gauge is fully restored, you will be able to attack again. After the battle, the Action Gauge refills completely.

HP

Your characters' Hit Points. For more information, see pg. 21.

AP

Your characters' Ability Points. For more information, see pg. 21.

When you use a weapon whose skill bar is completely filled, the weapon's elemental status bars will continue to fill.

Insectron

Insectron is a dueling tournament where you use bugs to fight. As you proceed through the adventure, you will be able to participate in insectron.

INSECTORS

In order to participate in Insectron, you need to acquire "Insectors" that are used in tournaments. The Insectors you acquire can be raised and grown.

Finding Insectors

In order to catch Insectors, you need the "Insector Trap." Set it with bait, leave the cage somewhere out on the field, and you may catch an Insector. The kind of Insector you catch depends on the type of cage, the kind of bait, and where you set the cage.

Training Insectors

In order to train Insectors, you need the "Rearing Cage." Put the Insector you want to train in the Rearing Cage, and the Insector will begin to grow. The degree of its growth depends on the type of Rearing Cage, the type of food, and the Insector's species.

Feed Formula: The two Insectors in the cage will mate, and produce a new Insector. The new Insector's abilities will depend on the abilities of the parents.

Battle Feed: The two Insectors in the cage will begin to fight. They will grow faster if they fight more often.

HOW TO COMPETE IN INSECTRON

Insectron is exhibited at the Insectron Stadium on the planet Zerard.

1. Buy License

In order to participate in Insectron, you need an "Insectron License." A license can be bought at an Insectron Meeting Hall.

2. Enter Tournaments

From top to bottom, Insectron is divided into the following six ranks: S, A, B, C, D, and E. Each rank has its own tournaments. At the beginning, you will battle in the lowest rank, E. As you win tournaments and become a rank champion, you will be able to compete in higher-rank tournaments.

3. Battle

The game of Insectron is played on a 5 x 7 grid. First, both players place five of their Insectors on the first two rows of the board, and choose one Insector to be their "King." Once you're done arranging your Insectors, you and your opponent take turns. You will move to attack your opponent's Insectors and remove them from the board. If you defeat the opponent's King, you win. If your own King is defeated, you lose. If you win the match, you will proceed to the next match.
