1. To solve The Secret to Intergalactic Success, you must solve each of the brain lobes in a particular order. To solve each lobe, you must gain access to Inner Space, obtain the four essential clues and use those to solve the lobe.
2. The Loonatorium is the central dispatch for finding the Secret to Intergalactic Success. Play Spot the Loony for hints on solving the secret and to find out which lobe to go to next. Be sure to play until the hints begin to repeat themselves.
3. In each of the scenarios or lobes, you gain entry to Inner Space by finding the Spanish Inquisition. Go to the lobe suggested by the Spot the Loony announcer. After the Cardinal says "Nobody expects the Spanish Inquisition," click on the door, answer the trivia question correctly and you are in. All of the answers to the trivia questions are found within the title so don't be afraid to explore.
4. There are four essential clues (clues needed to solve the lobe) and three non-essential clues buried in each maze. The non-essential clues give you some direction as to what to do with the essential clues to solve the lobe.
5. Once in Inner Space, control access to essential clues by using the SHIFT key on your computer's keyboard in combination with the question number.
6. Access to Inner Space from the Exploding TV Room can be gained through the Television. Pythonvision, which can be accessed by clicking on the right button on the TV, makes a great remote control. Try watching a show about that penguin on the telly.
7. To solve the Whizzo banners and access the Pinball Game in the Corridor, click on the banners in the following order: the left banner, the middle banner in the center, the top banner in the center, the right banner, the back banner in the center.
8. If you are sure you have the correct answer to a trivia question, try checking for spelling errors or verify your answer by finding it within the title.
9. One of the trivia questions asks "Nobody likes a..." The correct answer for this question is Benedict.

For the 10th hint, please see the maps on the back of this page. BEWARE-It's not as easy as it looks!!!
