Introduction

IN 1932 an American teenage girl was apprehended in Europe after carving a path of destruction trying to track down and kill her biological father. The girl's name was Rayne and she claimed the people she killed, and her father who was still at large, were vampires.

Before more information was attained, the girl disappeared.

That girl is a Dhampir; a product of her human mother's rape by her vampire father. Born with powers of a vampire without all of the weaknesses. She was taken in by an underground organization calling themselves the Brimstone Society—a top-secret fraternity that hunts down and destroys supernatural threats. Agent BloodRayne, as she is now known, protects humanity from things that ordinary people shouldn't have to deal with.

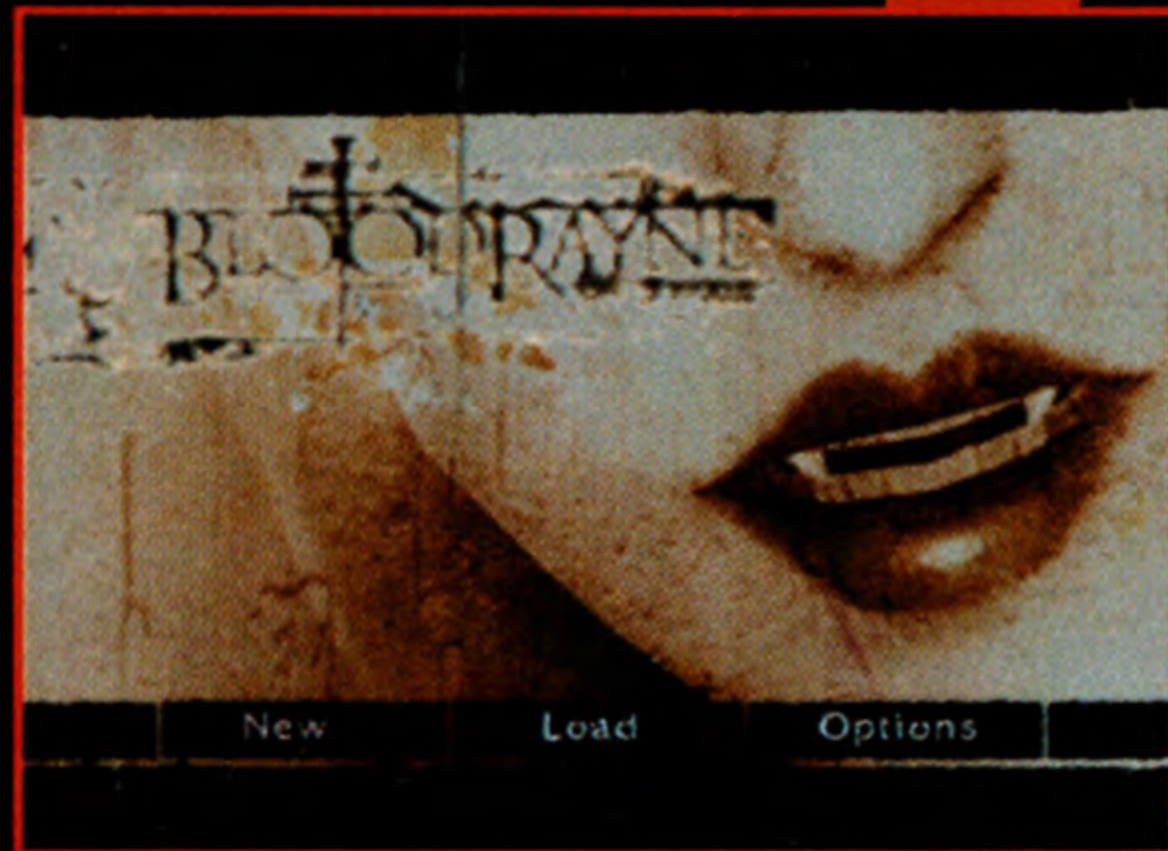

In the years between the World Wars, Agent BloodRayne works as a killing machine for The Brimstone Society. Two missions, five years apart, turn out to be connected by one man. For years, this man has been searching the world for powerful occult artifacts to bring Germany into a new age of domination. Agent BloodRayne must face this man's elite Nazi army to prevent them from releasing creatures of unfathomable terror onto the world in their unwavering quest for the artifacts.

Main Menu

Use the following controls to navigate the Main menu: directional button to highlight selections; the X button to accept the choice; and the ○ button to Cancel/Go Back to a previous menu. The Main menu contains the following:

NEW GAME

Choose NEW GAME to begin playing BloodRayne. You'll then have the option to choose Easy Mode, Normal Mode or Hard Mode. These settings affect BloodRayne's resilience. In Hard Mode BloodRayne takes a large amount of damage every time she is hurt. The opposite holds true for Easy Mode.

In Easy Mode, every time you continue (after dying) or restart the level, BloodRayne's health will be fully restored. In Normal Mode, BloodRayne's health will restore proportionate to the amount of time played in the level before continuing or restarting; if you restart immediately upon entering a level, BloodRayne's health will be the same. However, if you play for a few minutes before restarting, BloodRayne will start with more health than she originally had. In Hard Mode, BloodRayne's health will never restore from restarting or continuing after death.

LOAD

Choose LOAD to go to the Load screen and load previously saved games.

OPTIONS

Choose OPTIONS to access the Options menu to configure game controls.

WEAPON INVENTORY BAR Appears on-screen when you press the L2 / R2 buttons. The bar enables you to cycle through the weapon modes to choose from the inventory BloodRayne is currently carrying. BloodRayne's current weapon mode is depicted by a colored background. The weapon or weapons currently in hand have a bright outline around the weapon silhouette. Ammo counts are also indicated on this bar.

Pressing the START button pauses the game and brings up the In-game menu. It contains the following:

RESUME Returns to game immediately.

MAP OF MORTTON/ TARGET LIST

When in Louisiana, a level map is accessible from the In-game menu to assist in navigation. In Argentina and Germany, a target list appears in place of the map. In addition, level objectives will be automatically displayed at the bottom of the In-game menu any time you pause the game.

SAVE GAME

The game auto-saves at the completion of every level. When it occurs you will be asked: Quick Save or Save in New Slot? QUICK SAVE overwrites the current slot. SAVE IN NEW SLOT brings up the Memory Card Manager, allowing you to choose a new slot to write to. After saving the game, you resume play at the point where you paused the game. When you load a saved game, you start at the beginning of the level where you last saved.

GAME OVER

When the game is over, you will be given the choice to either QUIT, CONTINUE or LOAD. Selecting QUIT will bring you to the Main menu. Selecting CONTINUE automatically reloads the game you were playing and restarts the current level. Selecting LOAD allows you to load a previously saved game.

Gameplay

Half human, half vampire, BloodRayne is a formidable monster hunter. Her superhuman strength, agility and senses make her capable of feats far beyond the scope of the normal human and have allowed her to develop extraordinary skills. Here's what she can do:

MOVEMENT/NAVIGATION

WALK, RUN, STRAFE

The speed of BloodRayne's movement can be adjusted from walk to run depending on how far the left analog stick is depressed. Pressing either left or right causes her to strafe in the direction pressed.

180° TURN

Press the ○ button to make BloodRayne turn 180°. This is the quickest way she can deal with attacks from behind.

JUMP

BloodRayne can jump farther than a normal (or even exceptional) human. She can jump to her maximum height as long as the X button is pressed and held down for the duration of the jump.

Releasing the X button during the jump causes her to peak at that elevation, and she begins her descent from that point. BloodRayne jumps in whatever direction the left analog stick is pressed. Use the left analog stick in conjunction for multi-directional jumping.

CONTROLLED LANDING

If you are holding the left analog stick in the direction of the jump, BloodRayne automatically rolls upon landing if she intends to keep running. Release the left analog stick if you want her to stop at her landing point.

REBOUND KICK

Pressing the jump button while in the air causes BloodRayne to Rebound Kick; she lunges forward feet-first into a spiraling attack. The Rebound Kick enables BloodRayne to jump off of other characters, transferring all her forward momentum to send them flying through the air. The Rebound Kick also enables her to shatter glass, weakened walls and some locked doors. Non-reinforced glass shatters on the first hit but reinforced glass may take more hits.

FEEDING

BloodRayne has built-in health recovery due to her half vampire heritage: drinking blood of the living. If BloodRayne is close to a victim when the □ button is pressed, she begins feeding (as opposed to using the harpoon). If the victim is lying on the ground, she drops down, mounts him and feasts. When feeding while standing, BloodRayne can use the victim as a human shield by turning his body to interpose it between her and other enemies. While feeding, she is somewhat vulnerable because she cannot attack with her blades. However, if she has a gun in her left hand, she can fire it at enemies if she's feeding upright.

HARPOON

The harpoon is a light throwing knife affixed to a chain and attached to BloodRayne's left wrist. The harpoon chooses its target automatically using an auto-aim system similar to her guns.

LONG-RANGE STRIKE

Tapping the  button causes the harpoon to launch out at a targeted enemy. Regardless if the strike is successful, it immediately returns to its sheath.

CAPTURE ENEMY

If you hold the  button when the harpoon strikes an enemy, the enemy is pulled towards BloodRayne by the rapidly retracting chain. This is often helpful when used in conjunction with feeding.

BLOOD RAGE

Blood Rage is a berserker mode in which BloodRayne moves a little faster, inflicts more damage and has a high chance of dismemberment with each hit. She also uses completely different and spectacular attacks than she does in normal mode. The screen tints red, the fog thickens and time slows down a little. You earn Blood Rage by performing blade attacks to fill the Bloodlust meter. A red flame appears above the Bloodlust meter when it is full indicating that Blood Rage is available. When this happens, hit the  button to activate it. The Bloodlust meter ticks down like a timer. Once it has expired, BloodRayne drops out of Blood Rage. You can revert to normal vision and conserve her Bloodlust energy by pressing the button again or by pressing up on the directional button.

ENHANCED VISION

AURA SENSE

Pressing left on the directional button activates Aura Sense and allows BloodRayne to "see" living prey health and attitude (Aura Sense also doubles as night-vision). If the victim is in a relaxed state (patrolling, standing guard, etc.), the aura is red. State of health determines aura intensity: an unaware, healthy enemy will appear bright red while an unaware, unhealthy enemy will be dim red. BloodRayne can safely feed for a whole meal if she catches an edible victim off guard.

If a strong enemy is healthy and alert (chasing, hunting, etc.), his aura appears bright green. As he loses health, the aura changes from green to yellow to orange to red then grows dimmer and dimmer. Once the enemy's health is red, he can safely be eaten but BloodRayne doesn't get much of a meal. If BloodRayne attempts to feed before that, the victim may try to resist her efforts.

Finally, Aura Sense can also be used to detect immediate objectives. Your next destination will be highlighted with a bright blue aura that shines through everything, including walls.

EXTRUDED VIEW

BloodRayne will find a special item that imbues her with the ability to see into the distance as though she is looking through binoculars. Extruded View also doubles as a first-person look/sniper mode. You cannot move in this mode; you can only turn and look using the right analog stick. Use up and down on the left analog stick to zoom the view in and out.

DILATED PERCEPTION

BloodRayne eventually gains the ability to "slow down" time. This is called Dilated Perception. In actuality, she's simply processing sensory information so fast that everything (including herself) seems to be moving in slow motion. This allows you better control for hitting targets, evading attacks and dodging bullets.

Pressing down on the directional button activates Dilated Perception. Once activated, pressing any other direction on the directional button will immediately deactivate Dilated Perception and activate the vision assigned to the direction pressed.

COMBAT ABILITIES

HAND-TO-HAND

BloodRayne's primary weapons are a pair of giant silver blades hinged at her wrists and dagger-like attachments on her boots.

NORMAL HAND-TO-HAND ATTACKS (STANDING ATTACKS ONLY)

BloodRayne performs blade and kick attacks when you press the L1 button. The direction of each attack is determined by the direction pressed on the left analog stick.

There are a total of five standard attacks. The attacks are linked together in a combo string. BloodRayne starts with only level 1 and level 2, earning more as she progresses through the game. Tap the L1 button to initiate normal attack combos. The combos trigger automatically if BloodRayne makes contact with an enemy or object on each attack.

BLOOD RAGE HAND-TO-HAND ATTACKS

In Blood Rage mode, BloodRayne has five completely different combo attacks that are activated the same way as regular combos. She also starts the game with only level 1 and level 2 Blood Rage attacks, earning more throughout the game.

RAGE ATTACKS

BloodRayne will gain the ability to perform special Rage Attacks. If BloodRayne has earned enough Bloodlust, you can access a Rage Attack by pressing the Blood Rage and Attack buttons at the same time.

BloodRayne executes a devastating Rage Attack at a cost of roughly 1/3 of her Bloodlust power. This attack is slightly less powerful than her attacks in Blood Rage mode but the difference is that Rage Attacks are accessible at any time, even if only a portion of the Bloodlust meter is filled.

JUMPING ATTACKS

BloodRayne will also gain the ability to perform a special jump harpoon attack. Perform stinging harpoon whip attacks in the air by pressing the □ button while jumping.

GUNS AND PROJECTILES

BloodRayne can hold a small arsenal on her body: up to four handguns and/or small sub machineguns on her belt, up to two rifles and/or large sub machineguns on her back, up to two grenades on her belt and one special weapon on her back. Furthermore, due to her inhuman strength, she can also hold almost any gun in a single hand. This allows her to go guns akimbo with every regular pistol, rifle, assault rifle and sub machinegun.

AUTO-PICKUP/DISCARD

BloodRayne will automatically pick up any weapon she walks near as long as it has ammo and she has a spot for it. If her inventory is full, BloodRayne compares any available weapons to her current ones and will switch out so you have the most powerful weapons with the most ammo (Special Weapons are the exception. See pg. 16).

AUTO-AIM

The guns are all auto-aim and will target the nearest enemy. The only exception to auto-aim are the grenades (see pg. 16).

FIRING GUNS AND THROWING EXPLOSIVES

Fire guns and throw explosives (grenades and dynamite), by pressing the R1 button.

WEAPON MODES

There are four Weapon Modes to choose from in order to select what projectile weapon BloodRayne will use. Select the mode by pressing the L2 / R2 buttons.

LIGHTEST GUN MODE

BloodRayne picks the weakest two guns from her current inventory of pistols, rifles, assault rifles and sub machineguns. This mode is good for saving more powerful weapons for stronger or more numerous enemies.

HEAVIEST GUN MODE

BloodRayne picks the strongest two guns from her current inventory of pistols, rifles, assault rifles and sub machineguns. This mode is ideal for most situations since BloodRayne quickly empties and refills her gun inventory.

EXPLOSIVES MODE

BloodRayne readies explosives from her current inventory. These include grenades and dynamite. Explosives can be thrown over bunkers or around corners. The distance thrown is dependant on the angle you have the camera. Grenades are on a timer so they can be "cooked" by holding the R2 button for a few seconds before releasing. Be careful not to hold it for too long or the explosive will detonate in BloodRayne's hand.

SPECIAL MODE

BloodRayne draws her special weapon from her current inventory. This includes shotguns, sniper rifles, full-size machineguns, grenades and rocket launchers. See Special Weapons below for more information.

SPECIAL WEAPONS

Special weapons have their own unique properties that don't fit into the basic guns category. Note: BloodRayne can only carry one special weapon at a time. When BloodRayne is close enough to a special weapon, a prompt will appear to give you the option to exchange BloodRayne's current special weapon with the new one. To exchange special weapons, press the R1 button. If you want to exchange back, you need only approach the other gun again. Most require two hands but do not slow down BloodRayne's movement at all.

DOUBLE BARREL SHOTGUN

A double barrel shotgun holds two shots. It only has short to medium range but sports widespread damage.

PUMP ACTION SHOTGUN

A pump action holds 5 or 8 rounds. It has short to medium range but inflicts widespread damage.

SNIPER RIFLE

This gun is ideal for use with Extruded View because it's the only gun type that is 100% accurate. It has a slow rate of fire but deals a great amount of damage.

TRIPOD-MOUNTED MACHINEGUN

BloodRayne can hold one of these tripod-mounted monsters like a human would hold a rifle or sub machinegun. In other words, it takes both hands, but she can still run and jump with no extra effort.

GRENADE LAUNCHER

This experimental weapon holds 10 grenades.

ROCKET LAUNCHER

There are two models of rocket launcher: basic and advanced. The basic model is one shot only and the advanced version fires 3 rounds. It is a special weapon because of its massive wide area damage and slow rate of fire.
