Wei, Wu, and Shu...

An age of 3 Kingdoms carved out of one vast land.
Hidden within the epic history of this period are the stories of the vanquished.

The mighty Hero, who could not see that his time had come, and gone.

The noble General, whose bravery and valor earned him a glorious death.

The lovely Enchantress, whose stunning beauty landed her the leading role in a tragedy.

The passionate Visionary, whose dreams grabbed people's hearts, and led them to ruin.

In later years, many came to see amongst these tales, the seeds of their own dreams.

Dynasty Warriors 3 Xtreme Legends.

*But for the whims of fate,
these stories, too, would have carved a place in history.*

Polish Your Skills

[Movement]

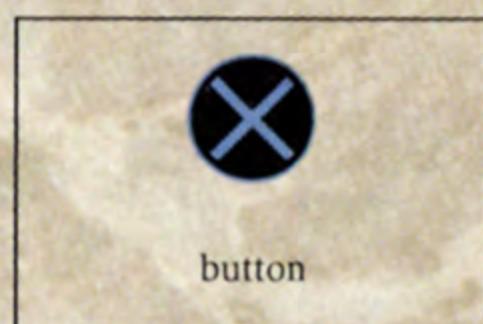

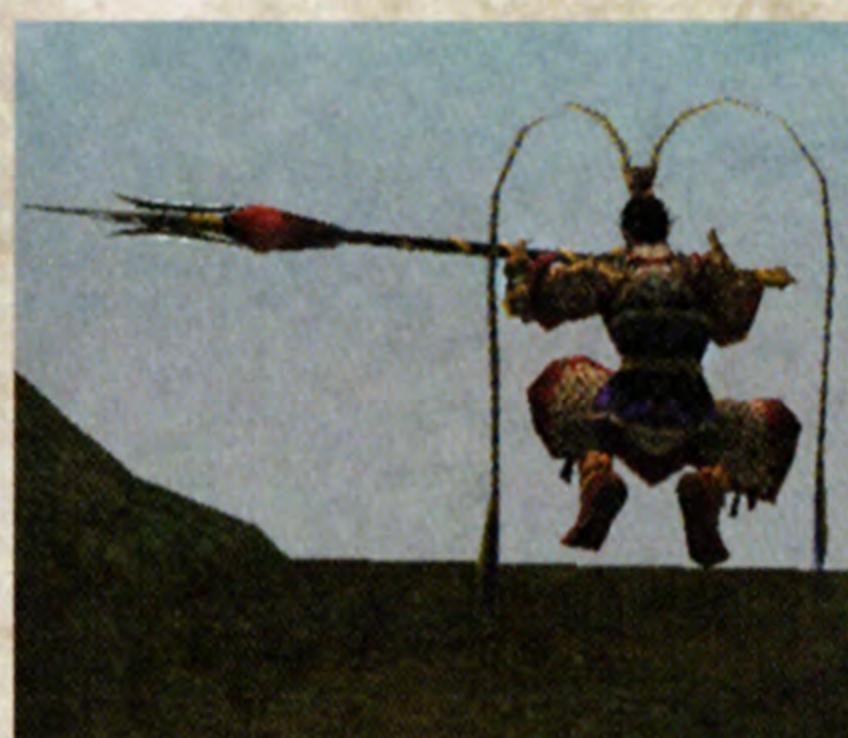

Move

[Normal/Mounted]

Your character moves in the direction you press the left analog stick. In analog mode, either the left analog stick or the directional buttons can be used. In the following explanations, all control descriptions which apply to the left analog stick apply to the directional buttons as well.

Jump

Jump straight up.
By manipulating the left analog stick and pressing the X button, you can jump in the desired direction. The longer the button is depressed, the higher/farther the jump goes. Jump cannot be used from horseback or when firing a bow.

Shift Movement

Move, while maintaining the current camera orientation.

POINT! Pressing the L1 button will take you to the frontal view. The left analog stick can be used to move while the L1 button is depressed. This allows the player to move without losing sight of the enemy in front of him. Shift movement is especially useful when you want to attack a given enemy or are trying to break through an enemy blockade. It can also be used on horseback and while firing a bow.

Mount Horse/Dismount

Next to a horse

button

Pressing the X button while next to a horse allows you to mount the horse.
Pressing the X button while on a horse allows you to dismount.

POINT!

Mounted, you can move quickly around the battlefield.

A powerful horse can also send weak enemies flying as it forges its way across the field. A high level horse will throw a low level officer who tries to ride it.

Elephant controls are the same as for the horse. On the elephant, all enemies in your path are sent flying. The elephant cannot move very quickly. However, the damage it can do is tremendous.

A difference in horses

Lu Bu's horse, Red Hare, was renowned in its time as the 'horse of horses.' His level is of course extremely high. To ride him and other such horses, you have to be a certain level of rank, or have a special item.

Red Hare

No. 1 in speed. Almost the equivalent of an elephant in power. Great for sending enemies flying quickly.

Hex Mark

The next strongest horse after Red Hare. Extremely fast. Liu Bei's favorite horse.

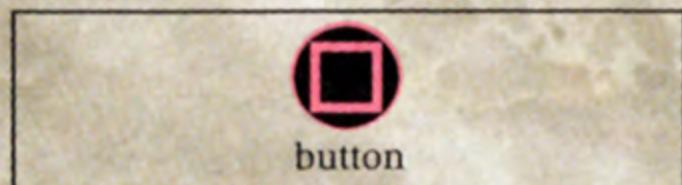

Low Level Horse

A horse even the lowliest soldier can ride. It's strength and speed almost make you want to get off and walk, though.

[Attack]

Normal Attack

Attack in a normal method. Repeatedly pressing the □ button allows you to do a 4-6 move combo.

POINT! This attack can be done immediately, so it is effective for times when you are surrounded by enemies. The number of combos that can be done is determined by the Combo attribute of the weapon being used. This can be viewed on the information screen.

Jump Attack

While jumping

Attack an enemy while you are jumping.

POINT! If your timing is right, you can knock an enemy off of a horse or elephant. The attack is effective below you as well, so this can be an excellent help in breaking free when the enemy has you surrounded.

Dash Attack

After at least 6 steps

Move rapidly forward while attacking those you pass by.

The effect differs between the various officers.

POINT! Very useful when cutting your way into an enemy squad.

Bow Attack

While pressing the R1 button

While depressed, this button will take the character to Bow mode. In this mode, the left analog stick adjusts the sighting. To use this attack you need arrows. You can have as many as 99 arrows in stock. Arrows are picked up as items.

- button: Normal bow attack
- △ button: Increased power, can knock out the enemy.
- button: A barrage of arrows, continued as long as the button is held. (Only available when the Musou Gauge is at Max)

POINT! Effective for use against mounted enemies.

Mounted Attack

While on a horse

Attack an enemy while mounted on a horse.

- button: Attack the enemies to the left or right.
- △ button: Use a charged attack against the enemies to the left or right.
- button: Use a Musou attack against the enemies to the left and right of your horse. (When the Musou gauge is full.) You can continue the attack until the Musou gauge runs out by keeping the button pressed.

Attack an enemy while mounted on an elephant.

- button: Ram the enemies and send them flying.
- △ button: Shake the ground and stop enemy movement.
- button: Charge and trample the enemy. (When the Musou gauge is full.) You can continue the attack until the Musou gauge runs out by keeping the button pressed.

Press the △ button to use bow attack for those tough enemies.

Finish them when they are down.

The useful Bow and Arrow

There is no need to rush in to do direct battle if you are down on health. Stand off a distance and take potshots at the enemy for a while. Then when their health is down, you can move in to easily finish them off. The bow attack is useful. That is why the enemy will also use it when they can. If you discover an enemy bow unit, ignore any others and go and take care of them first. You can use your own bow to shoot bowmen on towers or others who are shooting at you from a distance.

[Charge Attack]

button

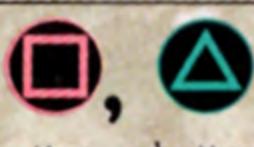

Allow your power to build up and then release it in a powerful attack against the enemy. Pressing the △ button after a series of normal attacks allows you to do a Charge Combo.

Charge 1

Attack all enemies within a wide area. This can cause enemies to stumble, leaving them temporarily defenseless.

button button

Charge 2

Lift enemies into the air. By pressing the □ button again, you can continue the attack.

button button button

Charge 3

If this attack is successful, the enemy will be knocked out temporarily.

button button button button

Charge 4

Attack the enemy over a wide area and send them flying. Any units they hit take damage as well.

Knock an enemy high into the air. By continuing the attack, you follow them into the air. This requires a weapon with a combo count of 5.

Flying charge drive

After a successful Charge 5 attack, try pressing the button. If all goes well, you'll be able to see a spectacular mid air series of attacks.

There are different attacks for different weapons. This requires a weapon with a combo count of 6.

Even more Charged attacks!

Certain officers are able to do more attacks after they have successfully executed a Charge 6 attack. After completing a Charge 6 attack, try pressing the button.

[Musou Attack]

When the Musou gauge is full you can use the Musou attack. When your character livens and his hands begin to glow, the move is ready to be used. The Musou gauge replenishes under the following conditions.

- Damage an enemy
- Be damaged by an enemy
- Health gauge turns red
- Hold down the ○ button

Musou Attack

Conduct a special attack against the enemy. You can continue the attack until the Musou gauge runs out by keeping the button pressed.

POINT! While doing the Musou Attack, you can not be hit by the enemy. This attack is best used when you are surrounded by the enemy or fighting a famous officer. However, if the enemy also uses a Musou attack, you could end in a deadlock.

True Musou Attack

When your health gauge is red

Conduct a powerful special attack against the enemy. You can continue the attack until the Musou gauge runs out by keeping the button pressed.

POINT! While doing the Musou Attack, you can not be hit by the enemy. This attack is best used when you are surrounded by the enemy or fighting a famous officer. However, if the enemy also uses a Musou attack, you could end in a deadlock.

Double Musou Attack

When using Warrior Bodyguards

Conduct a particularly powerful special attack against the enemy. You can continue the attack until the Musou gauge runs out by keeping the button pressed. This attack can be used when the following conditions are met.

- The Musou gauge is blinking yellow-green. Happens after each 100 enemies you KO.
- Famous officer among your bodyguards.
- You and the famous officer are within a certain distance of each other.
- The famous officer has not been KO'd.
- The Musou attack has been triggered.

POINT! Conditions for 2P Mode

- The Musou gauge is full.
- 1P and 2P are within a certain distance of each other.
- Both 1P and 2P initiate a Musou attack at almost the same time.

[Defense]

Guard

button

Guard against attacks from the front. Pressing the L1 button will take you to the frontal view. You will maintain your guard as long as you hold down the button.

POINT! Guard is also effective against bow attacks. The camera effect is useful when moving or in a crowded battle.

When guarding against an enemy attack

button

Throw off the enemy attack. After guarding against an enemy's attack, press the □ button.

POINT! If the guard is successful, press the □ button. This will throw the enemy back and give yourself some space to maneuver.

Power Guard

Recover

When in the air

button

You can recover in midair after being knocked back by an enemy attack by pressing the L1 button while in the air.

POINT! You can also recover after being bounced on the ground by an enemy attack. If successful, you are ready to attack as soon as you land. However, there are some attacks which you cannot recover from.

While Stunned

Left analog stick + any button

If the enemy succeeds in stunning you, quickly move the left analog stick and rapidly press buttons (except for START or SELECT buttons). You will recover faster.

Deadlock

Repeatedly press the □ button.

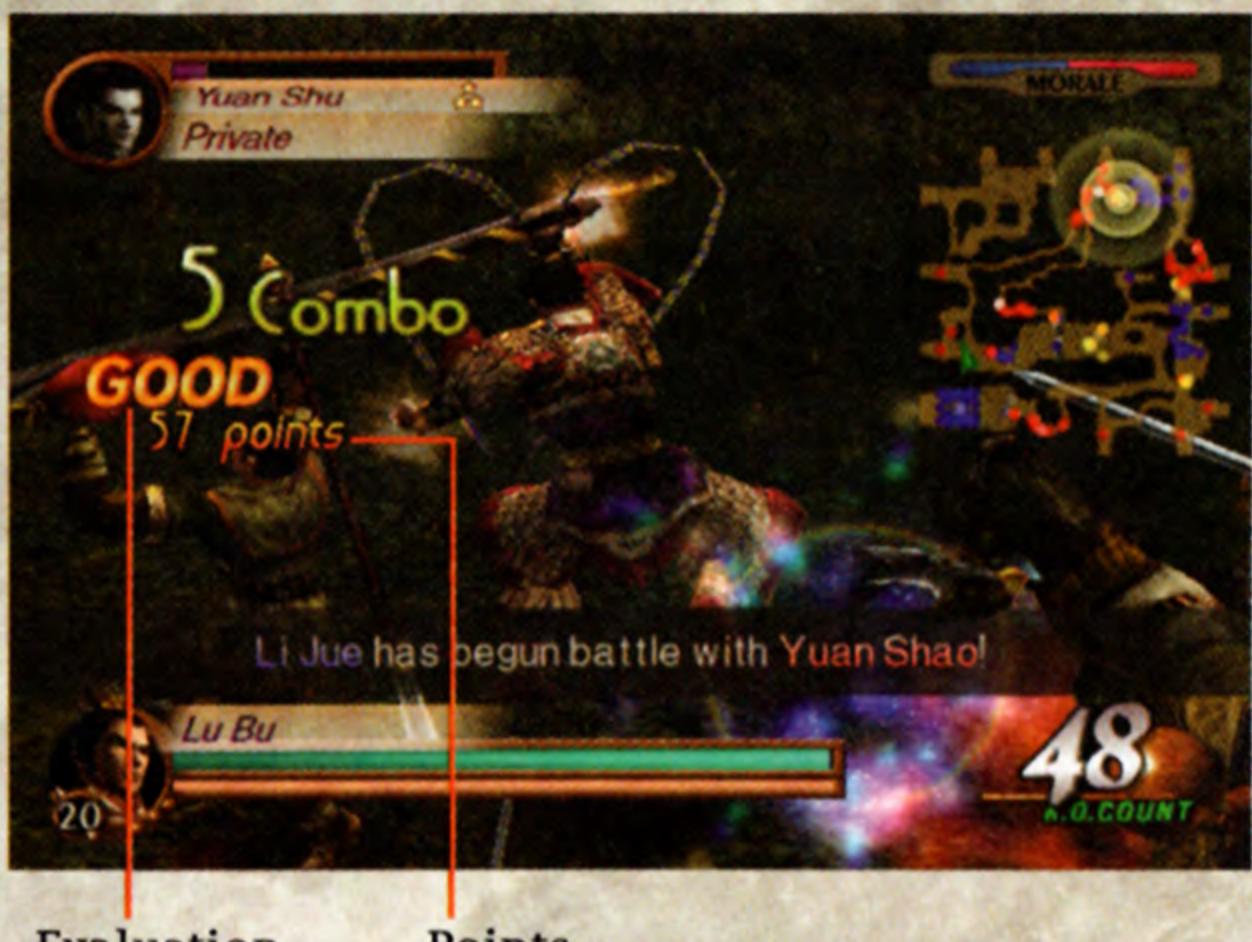

If you win a deadlock, the enemy is left temporarily open to attack. If you lose, your Musou gauge becomes 0.

[Combo Evaluation System]

Evaluation

Points

This is a system to evaluate the different moves you do during a combo attack.

- The type of attacks you do in a Combo
- The score for each move (normal attack x 1 = 1 point, Musou attack = 7points, etc.)
- An evaluation of the enemy you did the combo against.

Even when the combo ends, if you can start a new attack before the point display disappears, you can add more points to your former combo score.

3 Levels

- PERFECT! (Over 100 Points)
GREAT! (80-99 Points)
GOOD! (50-79 Points)

If you get a good evaluation...

◆ Weapon and Item effects increase!
If you get high enough evaluations,
your weapons could be powered up.

◆ Point Score grows!
With a good combo score, you receive more points at the end of the stage during the results screen.

Tips on Raising Your Evaluation

Don't use the same move twice!

You will get a higher score if you use a variety of moves.

Charge 5 \Rightarrow Charge 5 = 10 Combo
No Point Display

Charge 3 \Rightarrow Charge 2 \Rightarrow Charge 5 = 10 Combo
High point score

Add in a Musou or True Musou Attack!

The high-scoring Musou attack is always good as the finishing touch to any combo attack. It's the perfect way to end a good combination.

You can also start off with a Jump or Dash Attack!

One effective move is to start your combo attack off with a Dash or Jump attack. You can make a Dash Attack + Charge Attack + Musou Attack combo. This always gets a good evaluation.

Lu Bu

The ultimate warrior. His weapon has a tremendous reach and he can knock away groups of enemies with a single blow. In the game, using a Charge 2 attack to knock an enemy into the air and then following with a series of attacks is enough to take out almost anyone. Great for that feeling of being supreme. Good for beginning players.

I am the Lord of Musou!

Gathering of Heroes

The most beautiful flower on the field of battle!

Diao Chan

Short reach and not a lot of endurance. It is better to avoid close up fighting and make use of hit and run techniques. If facing a large crowd of enemies, cut your way through them with a powerful Charge 4 attack. If caught inside, use a Musou attack to cut your way out again.

Dong Zhuo

His power and attack ability covers his turtle-like movement. In a fight, his dash attack, followed by a Charge 3 attack (Stun), can be very effective. Be careful of using his Musou attack. He always falls down at the end, so a smart enemy might be able to catch you there.

For my dreams! I will prevail!

Yuan Shao

Wields his sword quickly and has excellent defense. An easy character to play. Like Dong Zhuo, his main move should probably be the Charge 3 attack. His Musou attack takes him in a straight line, so is extremely useful to escape when the enemy has you surrounded or when fighting a famous enemy officer.

For the Glory of the Yuan Family!

Zhang Jiao

Wields his weapon swiftly. Charge attacks also come smoothly. He does not have much endurance, but if you link together a number of charge combos, he won't be that easy to defeat. His backside is frequently undefended when he does a charge attack, so you want to always keep the enemy in front of you if possible.

Bring in the Age of the Way of Peace!

Meng Huo

Each of his blows is powerful. However, he moves slowly and leaves gaps in his defenses when he uses a charge attack. Pound on the enemy with normal attacks, and then when the time is right let rip with a charge attack. His dash attack stuns the enemy, so it can be quite useful at times.

The Great and Powerful overlord of the Nanman has come!

Gain the Advantage Raise Morale!

Gain the advantage, raise morale!

As morale increases, the attack strength of your allies does as well. This leads to an advantage in battle. The morale of allied forces can be raised in a number of ways.

- ◆ Defeat famous officers of the enemy.
- ◆ Defeat a certain number of enemy troops.

Alternatively, if an allied troop is wiped out and morale drops, your attack strength will drop and you will be at a further disadvantage in battle. Your best chance then is to find enemy officers and defeat them!

The best way to handle famous officers.

When facing an enemy officer, the first thing to remember is to guard. If you wait until the enemy has exhausted his attack, you can defeat them with no damage taken at all. The enemy might try to sneak up behind you when you are guarding, so remember to always keep them in front of you.

Also, when famous officers are low on health, they try to gather in energy and restore themselves. That is the time to attack them and keep them from healing themselves!

When you have Dynasty Warriors 3 data...

With data, when the game begins you are able to alter the color of the uniforms and use weapons and items found in Dynasty Warriors 3. All you have to do is have a memory card in MEMORY CARD slot 1 that has game data from Dynasty Warriors 3 on it.

*Data can only be converted if you do not already have saved data from Dynasty Warriors 3 Xtreme Legends.

“To know the enemy and know yourself is worth a hundred battles.” - SUN TZU

Use Items effectively!

◆ AFTER PICKING UP BATTLE ARMOR OR A BATTLE AXE, HEAD FOR THE ENEMY LINES! ◆

After picking up battle armor or a battle axe, plunge into enemy lines before the effect of the items wears off. Use the items to finish the fight in a hurry!

◆ ALWAYS CHECK YOUR EQUIPMENT (ITEMS) BEFORE BATTLE! ◆

Develop the habit of always going to Equipment and checking your items before you begin a stage. The items you pick up only work if you actually put them on!

Get in close to those pesky bowmen!

You should always circle and come at the enemy bowmen from the side. You'll run into a wall of arrows if you rush straight at them.

Use your own bow to take out the bowmen in towers and other places you cannot reach on foot. If for some reason you still can't get at them, just ignore them and move on. Or you can always lead your foe to the base of the towers where the bowmen cannot fire at you.

Learn to use horses and elephants!

◆ HORSE ◆

A treasure on those broad battlefields. With horses you can quickly move to reinforce an ally that needs help. Also the more powerful horses can bowl over most who stand in their way! Still, the game is set up so that you might not be able to ride the horses of the famous officers, at least at first. But, you can always take one off of an underling somewhere.

◆ ELEPHANT ◆

The △ button attack is recommended. You can stun all those ants that are fighting down at your feet! You can also knock another officer off of their elephant if done properly.

Any reason to use Combo Attacks?

Use Combo attacks whenever you can, even against the common soldier. If you pull off a 16 Combo attack or greater, even those enemies who usually do not drop items have been known to drop a meat bun or quiver of arrows. Also, the better your combo score, the more likely you are to get a good weapon or item when you find one.

What is a Mark?

Certain of the items have Marks indicating that they have extra abilities. When using a specific Charge attack, weapons with add an elemental power to their normal attacks. Weapons with the * Mark, have powers similar to items.

MARK TYPE	DESCPITION
Steel	Instantly kills common troops. Does heavy damage to famous officers.
Fire	Burns the enemy. They take damage as long as they burn.
Lightning	Shocks the enemy with electricity. This spreads to others in the vicinity of those hit.
Wind	Causes a whirlwind. Troops caught in the wind are blown away.

When Luck Rises...

The luckier you are the more chance there is that good items will be dropped by those you fight. When you want a powerful weapon, use the Seven Star Orb to raise your luck while you go out to do battle with the enemy.
