Each time you pass through a gate, "OK" will flash on the screen. Miss a gate and you are eliminated from the race (you are out of the running on this try). Avoid crashing into other riders in the first few feet of this race. Don't give up if you wipe out. It's a big hill and the leader could tank on the next bump.

SUPERPIPE

SLOPESTYLE

Go off rails, fun boxes, kickers, half pipes, and picnic benches for trick points. Pull off combinations for the highest scores. You have 150 seconds to mint a Gold medal performance.

FREE RIDE

Each company has many top quality boards to choose from. Highlight one of the brand names and press the X button. The choices can overwhelm you. Read the product description as you highlight each board to get an idea of its strengths.

If you are looking for trick boards, go with a Freestyle board. Freeride boards are great for heli-boarding or speed events like the Time Attack.

Boards are also designed with rider size (shoe size included), so make your choices with your rider specs and event type in mind (see pages 27-31).

Check out the product descriptions and prices of Accessories before you buy. You have to go pretty huge on a film deal to finance some of this stuff.

ENTERING SNOWBOARDER COMPETITIONS

You enter competitions from the Lounge. You participate in competitions based on your ranking and how much money you can spend on entry fees.

RANKING

There are three event rankings: C, B and A, entered in order of difficulty. "A" ranked events are the toughest. You must qualify in a lower ranking before being allowed to compete in the next one.
