Scouting Report

WARNING

WARNING: READ BEFORE USING YOUR PLAYSTATION®2 COMPUTER ENTERTAINMENT SYSTEM.

A very small percentage of individuals may experience epileptic seizures when exposed to certain light patterns or flashing lights. Exposure to certain patterns or backgrounds on a television screen or while playing video games, including games played on the PlayStation 2 console, may induce an epileptic seizure in these individuals. Certain conditions may induce previously undetected epileptic symptoms even in persons who have no history of prior seizures or epilepsy. If you, or anyone in your family, has an epileptic condition, consult your physician prior to playing. If you experience any of the following symptoms while playing a video game – dizziness, altered vision, eye or muscle twitches, loss of awareness, disorientation, any involuntary movement, or convulsions – IMMEDIATELY discontinue use and consult your physician before resuming play.

WARNING TO OWNERS OF PROJECTION TELEVISIONS:

Do not connect your PlayStation 2 console to a projection TV without first consulting the user manual for your projection TV, unless it is of the LCD type. Otherwise, it may permanently damage your TV screen.

GameSpy requires UDP Port 13139 to be open for unsolicited UDP in order to display the connection speed of other players.

HOW CREDITS WORK

WHAT ARE CREDITS?

Credits are the monetary system used in MLB Slugfest's Franchise Mode. You accrue Credits automatically as your Franchise season progresses, primarily from ticket sales and earnings for TV broadcasts (these earnings are automatically determined by the CPU). Accumulating Credits is simple: build yourself a winning Franchise. Big market teams (like the Yankess & Dodgers) earn more credits. Small market teams (like the Expos & Royals) will earn less. As you win a lot of games or even win the World Series, you'll see your number of Credits on the Free Agent screen go up (see Free Agents, pg. 13).

You'll use your credits on player contracts and trades (for each game played, each player receives 1/162 of his salary, adding up to their full salary over the course of a 162 game season). For every game you play, Credits go up from ticket sales and down for player salaries. Because you earn a bigger share of the gate on home games, you may see your Credits go up after some home games then fall on away games.

YOUR BUDGET

The "Budget" figure is the CPU's estimate of how high your Payroll can go before you'll start losing Credits. If your Payroll is 300 and your Budget is 250, you should lose about 50 Credits from your Cash entry over the course of a season.

It's also good to have some credits in the bank, so you can spend more on rookies each year. There's a subtle difference in performance for the players acquired when you are in debt versus players acquired with a surplus of credits.

CREDITS ASSOCIATED WITH TRADES & FREE AGENTS

Having a surplus of credits means you can "sweeten the deal" on the Trades screen by adding credits to the players you are offering. Since everyone needs Credits to compensate their players, adding Credits is an effective way to make a successful trade.

When you sign a Free Agent you don't have to use any credits initially (there's no "cost" or "signing bonus" associated with signing a player). But his salary will be added to your payroll. This means you'll lose more credits as time goes on. So, if you have a Payroll of 250 and you sign a guy at "27 credits for 5 years", you will now have a 277 credit payroll.

NEGATIVE CREDITS

Having a negative number of credits doesn't mean your Franchise can't operate. You're just limited in the moves you can make until you've accumulated a surplus of Credits again. When you have negative Credits, you can't do the following:

1. Sign contract extensions
2. Re-sign players whose contracts expired (unless they are earning only 1 Credit)
3. Sign Free Agents (unless they are seeking only 1 Credit)
4. Perform a trade that increases your payroll

PRE-GAME SETUP

SELECT CONTROLLERS

Press the directional buttons ← or → to select the side on which you want to play: Away Team or Home Team. Each person must pick a side.

SELECT TEAMS

In Quickplay games, you'll need to select the team you want to use in your Quickplay game. Press the directional buttons ← or → to scroll through the teams. Power ranking for Batting, Pitching and Defense will be displayed.

Note: You can also select Random teams by pressing the □ button.

LOCKED TEAMS

As you scroll through the teams, you'll notice that some custom teams are locked. Before you can select these teams, you'll need to find some success out on the diamond. As you accumulate wins and successful statistics, you'll see locked items become available.

PLAY MODE

Before the game starts, select the type of Play Mode for your game (see Play Mode, pg. 7)

ON THE DIAMOND

Read below for a rundown of the information displayed on-screen as you play:

TURBO METERS

At the beginning of each half of the inning, the Turbo Meters are fully colored, indicating you have the maximum amount of Turbo available. As you use your Turbo, the meter diminishes (see Turbo Maintenance, next page).

PITCHING/BATTING CONTROLS

Pitching and batting controls appear on-screen during an at-bat. Batting controls remain the same for every batter, but the pitching controls change, based on the pitcher.

THE DIAMOND

In the upper-left portion of the screen, the baseball diamond is displayed with colored dots representing offensive and defensive players. The color of the dots corresponds to the Home (red) and Away (blue) teams. As you run the bases, use this diamond image to keep tabs on your base runners.

STRIKE ZONE

Use the Strike Zone to set up your pitcher's pitches or gauge the location of a pitch if you're a batter. As a pitcher, use the left analog stick to place the crosshairs in the location you want your pitch. If you move the crosshairs beyond the strike zone, you'll notice the  button that indicates the location outside the zone.

PITCH COUNT

Balls and Strikes are displayed here.

DEFENSIVE POSITIONS

Press the D-pad to shift Infielders and Outfielders before the pitch.

ON THE DIAMOND

SPECIAL PITCH METER

When a pitcher throws 5 strikes, the Special Pitch meter will fill and illuminate. A pitcher's Special Pitch is then available. The L1 button with the name of the Special Pitch will appear at the bottom of the Pitch Selections. Press the L1 button to select the Special Pitch, aim with the left analog stick or directional buttons, then press the X button, □ button or ○ button to choose your delivery. The Special Pitch will be accessible until the pitcher uses it. At times, it's best to save it until you need a critical strike out.

Note: The Special Pitch is available only to the pitcher that acquired the Special Pitch. If you change pitchers, the new pitcher will have to earn a Special Pitch.

BALL DESTINATION TARGET

After the ball makes contact with the bat, a yellow target appears in the location where the ball will land. This gives you a destination to run toward or under in order to field the ball. The size of the target indicates the height of the ball. When batting, this is useful for determining the height of a pitch. The higher the ball, the bigger the target.

FIELDER CONTROL CIRCLES

Red or Blue Control Circles are fixed below the feet of a controlled player to let you know when you're controlling a player. These colors match the colors displayed at the Select Controller Screen (see Select Controllers, pg. 17).

Note: As the ball is in flight, sometimes a red or blue arrow points off-screen. This arrow points to the off-screen location of your active fielder. Pressing the □ button allows you to take control of the fielder nearest to the ball and increases his speed.

ERRORS

Errors occur at random, according to the player's Fielding rating. Just hope it doesn't happen at a critical moment.

MANAGER TIPS

TURBO MAINTENANCE

Pay close attention to your Turbo Meter during a play. It diminishes fast. Don't just hold down the button, because the Turbo is limited to one half inning at a time. It recharges between innings. Scoring runs or making a special play will help to replenish your Turbo Meter during the inning. Otherwise, you'll be limited to default speed until that half inning is over.

TIP

Use your Turbo to run the bases. It's not out of the ordinary for a hard line drive shot into the outfield to turn into an out at first base.

ON FIRE

All players have 3 major attributes: Contact, Power & Speed. Batting determines how likely a batter will hit into the holes. Strength determines how strong a player is when hitting the ball or making contact with another player. Speed determines how fast a player runs.

When hit with a Bean Ball, a batter's attribute could weaken. Over time, he will regain lost attributes. There is also a chance that your player will become enraged by the assault and explode in anger, increasing all his attributes. When this happens, the batter will rush the mound for a little payback.

The winner will remain On-Fire on the bases, on the field and even when he comes to bat in subsequent innings. He will lose fire only when he's called OUT while at bat or while running the bases.

Strength, speed and success will follow your players once you are "On-Fire". When you are on fire, your Turbo will never drain.

A Pitcher can catch fire by striking out 3 batters without giving up a run. A pitcher loses fire when he gives up a run.

On-Fire
(Orange Flames)

BASE RUNNING

LEAD-OFFS

While batting, all runners on base will automatically take a safe lead-off. Base runners will retreat automatically on pick-off plays unless the user designates otherwise.

For example: If a base runner on first base is told to steal second, and the pitcher attempts a pick-off play to first, the base runner will commence on stealing second base. To cancel a "Steal" command and retreat back to the base, press the R1 button.

BASE STEALING

While batting, the offensive player may indicate to the base runners to steal the next base. This is done by indicating the target base with the directional buttons or left analog stick and pressing the L1 button. That will lock the "Steal" command to the appropriate runner.

Each runner may be given a "Steal" command if desired, giving the player individual control of runner actions. So, with runners on first and third, the player may indicate that the runner on first base steals second, but the runner on third holds tight.

Also, with bases loaded, you may indicate that the runners on second and third steal their next base, but the runner on first base stays on first. Pressing the "Steal" button without indicating a target base will cause all runners to steal. The Retreat button will cancel any steal commands. Use the directional buttons or left analog stick and the R1 button to selectively retreat base runners.

ADVANCING BASE RUNNERS

While running the bases, the player may "Advance" runners to the next base by indicating the target base with the directional buttons or Left analog stick and pressing the L1 button. Pressing the Advance button with no target base will advance ALL runners to the next possible base.

This system keeps the game simple at a beginner's level, but gives the more advanced player more control by allowing some runners to advance while others are retreating. You may only advance the runner one base ahead of his destination base (i.e. – You may only indicate to a runner going to first base to take second base. When he is halfway to second base, you may indicate that he take third base, and so on. You may not indicate that a runner take home plate while he is running to first.

RETREATING BASE RUNNERS

Retreat runners to the last base they "owned" by indicating the target base with the directional buttons or Left analog stick and pressing the R1 button. Pressing the "Retreat" button with no target base indication will retreat all runners to their last "owned" base. This allows some runners to retreat while others are advancing. You may only retreat a runner back to his last "owned" base.

For example: You cannot indicate that a runner goes back to first base if he has already reached second base. When the runner reaches second base, it becomes the new "owned" base. The only way a runner can retreat back past his last "owned" base is if he is tagging up after leaving too early on a caught fly ball.

SLIDING

A runner heading to a base has the option to "Slide" (X button) to the base in order to decrease the probability of being tagged out. Since "tag outs" to runners happen automatically on normal standing contact to fielders, a slide will cause a fielder's tag to reach the base runner a bit later than a normal tag.

The runner may execute the "Slide" by indicating the target base with the directional buttons or left analog stick and pressing the X button. When the "Slide" command is given, the move will execute when the runner reaches the appropriate distance from the target base. A slide will not execute if the runner is too close to the target base. Pressing the "Slide" button with no target base will cause all base runners to slide into the next base. Again, this allows some runners to slide while others are performing some other action. Slides will not use up any Turbo, but will slowdown your run momentum for advancing to a further base.

SLIDING TAKE-OUTS

Sliding Take-Out moves such as "Leg Sweeps" can be performed by indicating the target base with the directional buttons or left analog stick, and pressing the R2 button and X button (Turbo and Slide) simultaneously. The sliding runner will perform a "Take-Out" move at the end of the slide.

If the take-out move contacts a fielder, it will cause the fielder to be knocked off balance (flail), potentially disrupting his play.

If the fielder is holding the ball, there is a chance that the ball may be knocked loose and the runner will not be called "out". If you anticipate a "Sliding Attack", press the A button to jump over and avoid the attack. While the fielder is airborne, throw the ball. Sliding attacks will utilize a big chunk of Turbo.

MANAGER TIPS

ON-BASE SCUFFLES

Fielders can perform extra tags to an on-base runner by pressing the ○ button (Hard Tag). This has no real value other than being fun. However, pressing the R2 button and ○ button (Turbo and Hard Tag) simultaneously will drain some of the base runner's Turbo.

On-base runners can defend themselves from fielders performing extra-curricular tags by pressing the ○ button (Clear-Out). This will give a shove to the fielder and clear him away from you. The runner also has the ability to "pop" the ball from the fielder's hands by pressing the R2 button and ○ button (Turbo and Clear-Out) simultaneously. The likelihood of this is determined by the runner's Strength attribute versus the fielder's Strength attribute.

BASE RUNNING CLEAR-OUTS

Base runners can avoid being tagged out by clearing out pesky fielders in the base path in the form of a "Stiff-Arm" or "Door-Kick" type move. These "Clear-Out" moves may be executed by the base runner by pressing the ○ button. If the runner makes contact with the fielder while executing an attack, the fielder will be knocked off balance (flail).

If the fielder is holding the ball and the attack makes contact before the fielder can make the tag, there is a chance that the ball will be knocked loose and the runner will not be called "out". "Clear-Outs" will use a good chunk of Turbo for each runner performing the move. The result of the "Clear-Out" is determined by a runner's Strength attribute versus the fielder's Strength attribute.

FIELDER TAGS

A fielder may tag out a runner by either simply making body contact with the runner while the ball is in his throwing hand, or he may perform a longer reaching "Hard Tag" to the runner by pressing the ○ button. You must press the Hard Tag button to tag out a sliding runner. Hard Tags are also useful in countering a "Base Runner Clear-Out", as it will disrupt his attempt to knock you over.

TURBO

A full Turbo meter will be awarded at the start of each half inning. Using Turbo while performing moves will, in most cases, enhance those moves. If Turbo is used while running, the run will be faster. If Turbo is used while throwing, the throw will go farther and faster, etc. Some moves will drain Turbo even if the Turbo button is not being pressed. "Base Runner Clear-Outs" are a good example. When these moves are executed, the Turbo Meter will automatically be drained the appropriate amount.

Use your Turbo wisely! The Turbo meter will not automatically be replenished during an inning, but there are events that will replenish Turbo energy. On Offense, you may regain Turbo by stealing bases, scoring, and watching a pitch for a "ball". On Defense, you may regain Turbo by getting players out and fooling a batter with a "strike".

SLUGFEST BATTING

AT THE PLATE

Almost every pitch can be hit! Timing is the most important element to MLB Slugfest batting. Whether a pitch is high, low, inside or outside, if your swing is timed properly, you will make contact. Solid contact with the ball is determined by matching up the swing location to the pitch location. If your batter has a higher batting rating, he will make better contact even if he doesn't match the pitch exactly. The size of the yellow ball cursor will give the batter a clue to how high or low the pitch is. The higher the ball is from the ground, the larger the cursor will be, and the lower the ball, the smaller the cursor.

BATTING SWINGS

"Contact Swings" will deliver a nice safe swing, which has a high likelihood of landing a player on base. "Power Swings" increase a batter's chances of hitting a home run, but with the drawback that if the swing is not matched up exactly to the pitch location, there is a higher chance of a bad hit to occur. "Turbo Swings" will increase the power behind each type of swing, but will drain a chunk of Turbo. Use your Turbo wisely!

DIRECTIONAL BATTING

This entirely new MLB Slugfest batting system allows you to aim your hit like an MLB player. To aim for the fences, push ↑ on the left analog stick. To slap an outside pitch down the right field line, push the left analog stick ➡. To pound a grounder through the hole for a hit, push the left analog stick ↓ and to the ←. For best results, you need to make sure that three factors are in agreement: (1) the direction of your swing; (2) the location of the pitch; and (3) the timing of your swing.

For example, if you get an inside pitch, the best response is to pull it down the line, and swing a bit early so that the force of your bat lines up with the direction you are aiming the ball. This new batting mode doesn't use any random numbers to determine where the ball goes. Your success depends entirely on your player's ratings and your actions with the controller, influenced by the pitch type and location and the pitcher's ratings. After you play for a while, you should notice the difference.

ON-FIRE REWARD

MLB Slugfest Loaded rewards good hitters with the opportunity to become "on-fire." It's our simple 2 for 2 for 2 rule. The first 2 batters on a team to hit 2 for 2 will catch "On-Fire" and will retain this reward until they are called out (See On Fire, pg. 20, for more details).

PITCHING

PITCH TYPES

Every pitcher has his arsenal of 4 different pitch types. Holding down the R2 button (Turbo) when pressing the X button (Pitch) will deliver an extreme version of the selected pitch, giving each pitcher 8 different pitches he can throw. Mixing up your pitch types and locations is a great way of throwing off a batter's timing. Each pitcher can obtain a Special Pitch by throwing 5 strikes. The Special Pitches are wild, physics defying throws that are very difficult to hit, but very cool to watch! See Special Pitch Meter, pg. 19.

CHANGING PITCHERS

Once the batters becomes acquainted with a pitcher's throwing speeds and pitch types, it is a good strategy to change your pitcher to introduce a fresh arsenal of pitches that will keep the batters guessing.

FIELDING

IN THE OUTFIELD

When a ball is hit past an outfielder, immediately press the □ button (Change Player) to take control of the closest fielder to the ball. The player you are controlling in the field is noticeably faster than a CPU controlled fielder.

If the ball is just out of reach of your fielder, press the △ button (Jump) to leap at the ball and make a spectacular diving catch. Timing is critical in making diving catches, so practice, practice, practice!

PAUSE OPTIONS

At any time during the game, press the  button to view the Pause Menu.

INSTANT REPLAY

The Instant Replay feature allows you to review a great play. Once a play has ended and the pitcher again has the ball, pause the game and select this option to view the Instant Replay screen.

Use on-screen controls to Play, Rewind or Stop the replay. Press the  button again to return to the Pause Menu.

SUBSTITUTIONS

One of the other new features in MLB Slugfest Loaded is the in-game Substitution option. You can replace players during a game using this option. Press the directional buttons  or  to highlight a player you'd like to replace, then press the  button.

Use the same method to choose the player you want to substitute the replaced player. Repeat this process until you're happy with your substitutions, then press the  button to confirm the changes.

CHANGING PITCHERS

MLB Slugfest Loaded makes it very simple to bring in a relief pitcher. Simply select Replace Pitcher. You'll then be able to select another pitcher or your closer. The new pitcher will then be on the mound and ready to go.

Note: This option is not available until your team is in the field. You can't change pitchers while your team is at bat.

CONTROLLER HELP

The Pause Options screen includes a nice controller layout diagram you can use to refresh your memory regarding the controls of MLB Slugfest Loaded. Press the  button or  button to cycle through the layouts. They're also displayed on page 4 of this manual.

If you'd like to switch sides during the game, you can use this option to take control of the other team.

GAME BALANCE

You will earn a Slugfest Rating for playing online, similar to a chess ranking, based on the quality of the opponents you defeat or are defeated by. This rating is displayed next to your account name. This rating is especially useful for finding competitive opponents in the 'Playground League'.

- New online players start with a SlugFest Rating of 500.
- When a game is completed, the winner's new rating is determined by adding 20 points and adding 1/20th of the difference between his opponent's rating and his own rating (note that this number might be negative if he defeated a weaker opponent).
- The loser's new rating is determined by subtracting 15 points and then adding 1/20th of the difference between his opponent's rating and his own rating (again, that this number might be negative if he lost to a weaker opponent). All decimals are truncated (i.e. 6.7 converts to 6).
- For calculating rating adjustments, differences of greater than 300 points are treated as equal to 300 (meaning that a player always earns at least 5 points for a win).
- In the case of a disconnection, the disconnecting player loses 5 rating points if he was losing at the time of the disconnection. The other player is unaffected.

EXAMPLE:

1. Rick signs up for online play. His starting rating is 500.
2. Rick defeats a 700-rated player. He gains 20 points for the win, plus 10 for the quality of his opponent, bringing his rating to 530.
3. Rick defeats a 400-rated player. He gains 20 points for the win but loses 6 points for the quality of his opponent ($[400 - 530] / 20 = -6$). This raises his rating to 544 ($530 + 20 - 6$).
4. Rick loses to a 750-rated player. He loses 15 points for the loss, but gains 10 points for the quality of his opponent ($[750 - 544] / 20 = 10$). This drops his rating to 539 ($544 - 15 + 10$).
5. Rick loses to a 1000-rated player. He loses 15 points for the loss, but gains 15 points for the quality of his opponent ($300 / 20 = 15$). Remember that differences greater than 300 points are treated as equal to 300 points. Rick's rating is unchanged by this defeat.
