INTRODUCTION

The Cotentin Peninsula, France. June, 1944.

James Patterson, a twenty-four year old Lieutenant in the Air Transport Corps, bravely piloted his over laden C-47 troop transport through bad weather, poor visibility, and heavy enemy fire to deliver a regiment of U.S Airborne paratroopers to their drop zones behind the beaches of Normandy, France. The date was June 5, 1944, D-Day minus one.

As the last man hit the silk, Patterson's C-47 was fired upon by German fighters. With a hole in the tail and one engine burning, Patterson crash landed his plane into an open field bounded by the unrelenting hedgerows of Normandy. Jimmy and four of his crew survived.

Armed only with his pistol, an M-1 Garand rifle and a few grenades, Patterson led his crew of airman toward the coast, taking out a few Wehrmacht checkpoints along the way. Running low on ammo and determination, the crew was eventually found by a small French resistance group known as the Maquis. Earlier that evening, resistance groups throughout Northwestern France had been alerted via Allied radio transmissions that the long-awaited, large-scale invasion against the German war machine was at last underway. They wanted in on the fight and were ready to help in anyway possible. Jimmy and his group were lucky to get picked up by the Maquis. The same could not be said for the nearly 5,000 other brave Allied souls who lost their lives on that fateful day.

The resistance group saw Jimmy and his men safely to a small port city just north of Quinéville, on the Eastern edge of the peninsula. On board an unassuming fishing trawler, they navigated miles of German mine-studded waters and finally reached the oncoming Allied armada. Jimmy was taken aboard the transport ship USS Thomas Jefferson. Realizing that the task at hand would demand the efforts of every able-bodied man aboard the vessel, Patterson prepared to return to France. His finest hour was yet to come.

Fully equipped for combat, standing shoulder to shoulder with members of the 116th Infantry in the cramped quarters of a Higgins Boat—now in tow beside the dark hull of the Jefferson, Jimmy listened intently to the quiet prayers of his newfound comrades in arms.

Lieutenant James Patterson was headed back into France...the hard way.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE CROSS

THE DISTINGUISHED SERVICE CROSS

The Distinguished Service Cross is awarded in recognition of extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against an opposing armed force.

This commendation is presented to a person who, while serving in any capacity with the Army, distinguishes himself or herself by extraordinary heroism while engaged in an action against an enemy of the United States; while engaged in military operations involving conflict with an opposing/foreign force; or while serving with friendly foreign forces engaged in an armed conflict against an opposing Armed Force in which the United States is not a belligerent party.

The act or acts of heroism must have been so notable and have involved risk of life so extraordinary as to set the individual apart from his or her comrades.

Inaugurated in 1862 in the middle of the Civil War, the founding legislation sought to create 2,000 Medals of Honor to be presented "to such non-commissioned officers and privates as shall most distinguish themselves by their gallantry in action, and other soldier-like qualities, during the present insurrection." Since the awarding of the first Medal of Honor to Army Private Jacob Parrot in 1863 for crossing Confederate lines to destroy a railroad, after millions of men and women have served their country through the six subsequent major wars, only 3,433 individuals have risen to the challenge to embrace the qualities that warrant this great distinction.

ABOUT THE CONGRESSIONAL MEDAL OF HONOR SOCIETY

In 1946, the Medal of Honor Society was formed to uphold the qualities of the Medal of Honor and to provide assistance to indigent recipients. Whether they became millionaires or laborers in peacetime, the CMOHS seeks to promote a brotherhood between recipients, for there are no "winners" of the Medal of Honor and no victories on the battlefield without brothers to protect. In so protecting, a number of recipients have given the ultimate gift to their brothers and their country. In their memory and those who have subsequently passed on, the CMOHS retains the record of their valiant actions. For living recipients, the CMOHS seeks to promote full and vibrant lives in peace for these living symbols of what it means to be an American. In times of duress, Americans need to look no further than the Congressional Medal of Honor Society for the values of valor, respect and honor across the spectrum of American backgrounds—the values that make this country great.

Electronic Arts is privileged to participate in the Society's continuing education and awareness efforts on behalf of the Congressional Medal of Honor and its recipients. You can learn more about the Society and the recipients at the Society website: www.cmohs.org.

LIMITED 90 DAY WARRANTY

ELECTRONIC ARTS LIMITED WARRANTY

Electronic Arts warrants to the original purchaser of this product that the recording medium on which the software program(s) are recorded (the "Recording Medium"), and the documentation that is included with this product (the "Manual") are free from defects in materials and workmanship for a period of 90-days from the date of purchase. If the Recording Medium or the Manual is found to be defective within 90 days from the date of purchase, Electronic Arts agrees to replace the Recording Medium or Manual free of charge upon receipt of the Recording Medium or Manual at its service center, postage paid, with proof of purchase. This warranty is limited to the Recording Medium containing the software program and the Manual that were originally provided by Electronic Arts. This warranty shall not be applicable and shall be void if, in the judgment of Electronic Arts, the defect has arisen through abuse, mistreatment or neglect. This limited warranty is in lieu of all other warranties, whether oral or written, express or implied, including any warranty of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose, and no other representation of any nature shall be binding on or obligate Electronic Arts. If any such warranties are incapable of exclusion, then such warranties applicable to this product, including implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose, are limited to the 90-day period described above. In no event will Electronic Arts be liable for any special, incidental, or consequential damages resulting from possession, use or malfunction of this Electronic Arts product, including damage to property, and to the extent permitted by law, damages for personal injury, even if Electronic Arts has been advised of the possibility of such damages. Some states do not allow limitation as to how long an implied warranty lasts and/or exclusions or limitation of incidental or consequential damages so the above limitations and/or exclusion of liability may not apply to you. In such jurisdictions, the Electronic Arts' liability shall be limited to the fullest extent permitted by law. This warranty gives you specific rights. You may also have other rights that vary from state to state.
