Hungry, cold and broke. On their search for the "samurai that smells of sunflowers," Mugen, Jin and Fuu's hunt for food ends up costing them more than they bargained for.

Drawn in by the prospect of a job with free meals and a siesta, the hungry trio boards a ship...for Ezo...

In the northern land of Ezo, danger awaits. The Ezo Castle towers over the lands at the northern end that are controlled by the Matsumae Clan. All different types of people swagger about this land, making it a true mixing place.

There's no way they'll stay out of trouble in a place like this. With curses, witches and of course brawls, it's just another day for this motley crew

JIN

FUU

RESULTS SCREEN

When you clear a stage, you can view your gameplay performance results on the Results Screen. Champloo level will be determined based on your results. There are also situations in which it is possible for you to get rewards

ATTACK AND DEFENSE CONTROLS

LIGHT ATTACK ◻

This unleashes a low-powered attack. The attacks are swift so there is the advantage of being able to link repeat attack easily.

HEAVY ATTACK △

This unleashes a powerful attack. The swing of the attack is big and sustaining a counterattack is easy, so it's important to assess the right moment to use it.

SPECIAL ACTION ⊗

Depending on the player character, special actions can be executed.

GUARD L1

When you are in a guard pose, it is possible to guard against only enemy attacks from the front (in cases where you are attacked from behind you will sustain damage). Depending on the enemy attack there are situations in which it is not possible for you to guard.

TECHNIQUE ○

If you match your timing an enemy's attack and press ○, you will be able to utilize special techniques. There are two types of techniques

- Technique Guard and Quick Cancel.

TECHNIQUE GUARD

If you press ○ the instant that an enemy's attack hits, you will be able to use Technique Guard. At that time, if you swiftly press either ○, ⊗, △, or ◻, you will be able to counterattack with a move that corresponds to that button.

QUICK CANCEL

If you press ○ the instant that an enemy's attack hits, you will unleash the Quick Cancel, and will automatically move over to target lock the next enemy. You will become invincible at this moment so if you use this in situations where multiple enemies surround you it will really come in handy in your battles. It is also useful when tying together multiple hits.

JUMP & 2-STAGE JUMP (Mugen)

Press ⊗ to jump. It is also possible to attack while jumping.

Using Mugen, you can execute a 2-Stage Jump by pressing ⊗ at specific locations within stages if you get the timing correct. You will fly even higher than with a regular jump, so it is possible for this character to go on to places that other characters cannot.

BACK ROLL AND STANCE CHANGE (Jin)

Using Jin, you can roll backwards by pressing ⊗. In cases where you press ○ and Technique Effects are not exhibited, it is possible to do a forward roll. When doing backward and forward rolls, Jin is invincible, and after completing a movement he switches into a stance. In addition, if you press △ at this time this stance will change by going up or down a level depending on the track of your performance. To match up with the stance, combos also change.

RHYTHM TRACK SYSTEM CONTROLS

ABOUT RHYTHM TRACK COMBO

The Combo Tree that is displayed at the top portion of the screen allows you to change the two types of Rhythm Tracks at any time. In the Combo Tree display order, by getting the timing just right and pressing the button, you can unleash moves one after the other. Whether you place importance on attack power or on the BGM you want to hear, decide this as you play.

SWITCHING BETWEEN COMBO TREES & TURNTABLE DISPLAY

R3

Press the R3 button to switch between the Combo Tree display and the Turntable display (middle of the top portion of the screen).

CHANGING RHYTHM TRACK

Right analog stick

While you are playing a Rhythm Track, you can change to another by pressing the right analog stick left and right. With this change in the Rhythm Track, the Combo Tree display will also change. By pressing the R3 button, you can switch the display at the top portion of the screen to either Combo Tree or Turntable.

EXTEND YOUR COMBOS WITH MAXIMUM TENSION!

If you raise your Tension Gauge to the maximum, you will enter High Tension status. Commands that extend the combo tree will be displayed, and you will be able to unleash more complex combos. Commands will be displayed in the red frame within the Combo Tree (Hyper Marks). Activate Hyper Mode by landing a hit with the attack that is framed in red on the Combo Tree.

SPECIAL TECHNIQUES

COUNTERATTACK

When your attack clashes with an enemy's attack, a slow-motion performance will begin. A white circle meter will be displayed and a button icon will appear. Press the button displayed to unleash a counterattack. The counterattack corresponds to the pushed button and there are multiple moves here. In cases where you press the wrong button or don't make it in time, you will sustain damage.

TECHNIQUE COUNTER

When your attack clashes with an enemy, a slow-motion sequence begins. If you do not press any buttons during this slow-motion sequence, a red circle meter will be displayed – swiftly push ○ here. After this if a □ icon is displayed, quickly press □ and you will succeed with the Technique Counter, allowing you to enter Hyper Mode. In situations where you press a button mistakenly or don't press the right button in time, you will sustain some damage.

HYPER MODE

In a High-Tension situation, commands within a red frame inside the Combo Tree will be displayed. If you input these commands and unleash moves on the enemy, Hyper Mode will begin. When you go into Hyper Mode the screen will go completely red, and for a certain period of time you will be able to swiftly unleash strong attacks one right after the other. If you defeat an enemy in hyper mode, more than the usual amount of money will appear. You can also enter Hyper Mode using a Technique Counter.

TENSION GAUGE

When an attack hits the enemy the tension gauge rises. When you suffer an attack from an enemy the gauge goes down.

TENSION GAUGE MAXIMUM & DANCEMAN

If you continue to attack and hit the enemy, a Star Mark will be displayed above the Danceman's head. After this, an enemy with a Star Mark on his head will appear. If you attack this enemy and hit them you will break into Tate Mode

SPECIAL TECHNIQUES

TENSION GAUGE MAXIMUM

In addition, when the Tension Gauge reaches its maximum (the round meter at the bottom left of the screen comes all the way to the far side) it will enter High Tension status, and a brand-new combo will be added to the Combo Gauge. When you enter High Tension status, the Danceman on top of the Tension Gauge will get unruly and will let you know that your Tension has reached its maximum point. If you suffer an attack from an enemy in High Tension status, the Tension Gauge will go down and the added combos will disappear.

TIPS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Press ○ in between Combos

You have probably experienced all kinds of unique situations, but it's tiresome to repeatedly press the same buttons over and over or just press buttons here and there – we cannot recommend this as a good way of getting through the game.

From here on out, consider the timing of your attacks. For connections between moves in the middle of a combo, there are all kinds of alternative attacks and counters, from ones that have small openings to those that leave you wide open to attacks. When you leave yourself wide open, it's easy for the enemy to zero in on you. In times like these, take the opportunity to press ○ in a split second. Repeatedly pressing ○ in your gameplay, if you are unsure of the timing, will give you a better idea of how the Technique button works. If you can manage to get in the habit of pressing ○ at just the right time, you will be able to effectively use the Technique button with a minimum of effort. or don't press the right button in time, you will sustain some damage.

TATE MODE

If you raise the Tension Gauge to its MAX and a Star Mark is displayed above the Danceman's head, an enemy with a Star displayed over its head will appear. If you hit this enemy with an attack, Tate Mode will begin.

The player character and the enemy will cross swords and a button icon will be displayed. If you succeed in swiftly pressing the same button that has been displayed, you will break into Combo Time. If you miss, then you will fail Tate Mode and will return to the normal game screen.

While in Combo Time, repeatedly hit the attack buttons as quickly as you can. During the time limit you can continually launch attacks and acquire money corresponding to the number of attacks that hit. You will also recover a little health. When Tate Mode is finished, you will return to the normal game screen and the game will resume. However, in situations where you manage to get 100 slashes, you will transfer over to Trance Mode [Page 12].

TRICK POINTS & COMBO TIME

Combo Time in Tate Mode basically increases based on the amount of trick points acquired during battle. Trick Points will get higher and higher as you make continual attacks. If you're aiming for Trick Points then it is recommended that you run about the stage to get large quantities of enemies to appear and then defeat them using Hyper Mode.

TRANCE MODE

If you succeed in getting 100 slashes in Tate Mode, you will be transferred over to Trance Mode. In Trance Mode, the screen will switch over, the player and enemy will be displayed on a shoji screen silhouette. Keep on slashing and hacking away at the enemies that appear one after the other. As for the controls for the attack, these are the same as with the normal game.

THE LIFE ICON

The Life Icon that is displayed at the top left of the screen will decrease with each attack you sustain from the enemy. It is possible to continue on until all of this "life" is gone or until you slash 100 enemies. You will receive a reward that corresponds to the number of enemies defeated in Trance Mode.

COINS AND KOBANS

When you defeat an enemy and they disappear, money will fall down from them. You will need money for shopping, fixing weapons, and so on, so be sure to pick it up. Occasionally Kobans will also fall, but these will be picked up automatically. These Kobans have the value of 1000 coins and are necessary for passing through barriers. When you are in Hyper Mode, if you defeat an enemy a large number of coins will appear.

BARRIERS

While you are on the road there are barriers that block off areas. To pass through these barriers you will have to pay a specified number of Kobans. At the end of the scenario, surplus Kobans will be converted to coins on the Results Screen.

GOING THROUGH STAGES

STAGE SELECT

It is also possible to select stages that you have already cleared. Use the left analog stick to select, and press  to confirm at the stage select screen.

CASTLE TOWN

Depending on the stage, before you head out on the road there are situations where you can head into the Castle Town to go shopping (Page 14).

Through these shutters it is possible for you to go to the “Weaponsmith,” “Record Shop” and “Souvenir Shop” of the Castle Town, and when you get out of the store you will return to your original area. WEAPON DURABILITY

Aside from the standard equipment for each character, there are goodies you can obtain through purchases at shops in Castle Town or by succeeding in Trance Mode. Each supplemental weapon has a different durability that is shown on the Durability Gauge at the top left of the screen. Every time you strike an enemy with a non-default weapon, the durability is reduced. When durability reaches zero, the weapon is considered broke and cannot be used until it is repaired. Fix your broken weapons at the Weapons Shops inside Castle Town.

RECORD SHOP

It is possible for you to purchase Rhythm Tracks played on the road and to change them. On the Change Tracks Screen, move the left analog stick up and down to select a Rhythm Track and fill in your Play List. You can make changes to the Play List by moving your left analog stick left and right (left and right of the Turntable). While changing, you can sample the track by moving your cursor over it. You can carry up to two tracks. Once your selection is finished, exit the Change Screen by pressing .

When you enter that game stage, the properties of the item you have purchased will be in effect. If you purchase an item in Castle Town, the properties of that item will continue.

MINI GAMES AND EXTRAS

MINI GAMES

POWER EATING CHAMPIONSHIPS

The object of this mini-game is to eat as much food as possible, as quickly as possible. If you press the wrong buttons, FUU will get a brain freeze, and you will Time Out. Depending on how much you eat within the time limit, you can get free bonus gifts.

BEETLE WRESTLING

Place your bet on a Sumo Match between your player's Rhino Beetle and the Shopkeeper's Rhino Beetle. After you have placed your bet, select 1 beetle out of a choice of 3. You can bet money from the total amount you have in your possession. Depending on the physical condition of your Rhino Beetle, your probability of winning and amount of money will change.

EXTRAS

After you have gone through the entire story with either Mugen or Jin, you can play as a game original character! In addition, Deathmatch mode will be added to the Mode Select screen.

DEATHMATCH

This is a vs. battle mode in which 2 players each select a character to use. The basic controls are similar to those of normal battles, but it is not possible to make changes to Rhythm Tracks or Weapons. Tracks that play during battle flow randomly, and the player can put out combos from that track. However, the Combo Tree will not be displayed, and the special effects for the tracks are not active. The one whose physical power gauge reaches zero is the loser.
