! In battles with rivals, you may accept a challenge for a "Gambling Battle," in which you battle by betting your parts or CP. However, unless the player bets parts and CP that is the same or equivalent to the auto body of the rival, the battle cannot be established. (At this time, you cannot bet "normal parts" with "dress-up parts", "currently equipped parts," and "parts from other cars"). In addition, in the case of gambling battles with team rivals, you cannot claim the betting items, until you win against the team leader (conversely, until you lose against the team leader, your parts will not be claimed). The player cannot select the order of battles with team rivals.

BATTLE CONFIGURATION

SPIRIT POINT BATTLE

In the Spirit Point Battle, victory/loss is determined by the driver's spiritual power, and by which driver finishes first. SP decreases when your opponent moves ahead of you, and continues to decrease as you fall behind and/or come into contact with a wall. When your SP becomes 0, your defeat is determined even before you reach the goal. When your opponent's SP also becomes 0, the battle is over. Even if your SP is higher than your opponent, you will lose if your opponent reaches the goal before you.

01	The player's alias	09	Rival SP
02	The player's SP	10	Distance Gauge
03	Back mirror	11	Time
04	Rival car (rear mirror) (Only in DRIVER'S VIEW)	12	Tachometer
05	Speed meter	13	Brake Warning Gauge
06	Boost meter	14	Tire Warning Gauge
07	Driving distance	15	Emergency Brake Usage Display
08	Rival alias	16	Gear position

! The Distance Gauge displays the distance between the player car and the rival car.

! The brake warning gauge builds up when the brakes are used too often and when it reaches MAX, the words "Brake Fade" will flash and the brakes will become less effective. When the brakes are released, the gauge will slowly return to normal. The Tire Warning Gauge displays the tire fatigue and grip loss when it reaches MAX, the words "LOSS OF GRIP" will flash.

TA Battle (Refer to P. 12)

CA Battle (Refer to P. 13)

TA/CA Complex Battle

The TA/CA Complex Battle is a battle configuration which combines the TA (See P. 12) and CA (See P. 13). You cannot win unless you beat your opponent's CA points and time.
